

FDR Warns He May Act In Strikes

Washington, April 4.—(P)—Calling the Allis-Chalmers strike the only really serious labor stoppage now in progress, President Roosevelt said today that it presented a very bad situation and one requiring action soon.

But, for the present, he left that problem to the Defense Mediation Board, which is to meet representatives of management and labor tomorrow. It would not be proper, the president remarked at a press conference, for him to prejudice the case.

For himself, he said, was asking for a little time—not much—with reference to the Allis-Chalmers strike. When reporters inquired as to his meaning, he said, he was asking the press to give him time to work the situation out.

Ford Strike
A correspondent seized upon the president's statement that the Allis-Chalmers was the only really serious strike, and asked whether the president was implying that he did not consider the Ford strike and the general soft coal strike as serious.

Mr. Roosevelt explained that he was speaking in terms of national defense. He hoped the miners might return to work next Monday, he said, and of the Ford stoppage he twice asked whether a strike that was only in its second or third day was to be called serious. When he said a day or two more, was his advice.

Receives Reports
Another reporter inquired whether Mr. Roosevelt had received reports of Communist action in connection with the Allis-Chalmers dispute. The reply was in the affirmative. With the added statement that the same thing applies to a good many individuals in the United States, not to labor as a whole.

The whole discussion was precipitated by a question whether Mr. Roosevelt cared to comment on two bills introduced by Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), who was among his callers yesterday. One measure would authorize the government to commandeer and operate strike bound plants. The other would require that a union give 30 days notice before going on strike. Mr. Roosevelt said he had not read the bills.

The strike at Allis-Chalmers has been in progress for more than two months. With the United Automobile Workers (CIO) seeking wage adjustments and a union shop.

St. Clair County Funds Withheld
Chicago, April 4.—(P)—Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, said today he had ordered the St. Clair county treasurer to withhold temporarily the release of April state relief funds to Centerville township, which includes a part of East St. Louis.

Lyons said he had ordered the funds withheld until he had received information from the attorney general as to whether Albert Ulrich, re-elected township supervisor, had been qualified to hold the office.

Ulrich was convicted on Jan. 20 on a charge of falsifying relief records. Lyons said, and an appeal is pending before the state supreme court. The office of supervisor includes the duties of overseer of the poor.

SETTLE DISPUTE
Chicago, April 4.—(P)—A labor dispute which threatened a strike of live stock handlers at the Sprawling Chicago stock yards was ended tonight in an agreement between the CIO Packinghouse Workers Organizing Committee and the Union Stock Yards and Transit Company.

Terms of the agreement, reached late in the afternoon by committees of the union and the management, were ratified tonight by the local union members, which total more than 600.

Governor Green Says Budget Has Been Balanced

State Government Will Operate in Black Next Two Years

Chicago, April 4.—(P)—Governor Dwight H. Green asserted tonight that the state's budget had been balanced.

In an address prepared for the Commercial Club of Chicago he declared that "for the next two years state government in Illinois will be operated in the black."

Describing his address as his "first report of stewardship" since he took office almost three months ago, the governor said:

"The state budget for the next two years has been completed. Revenue has been estimated closely, and in those forms of government which directly reach the people, greatly increased service has been provided. Certain departmental functions are being consolidated and improved, and greater protection will be given honest workers through the strengthening of civil service regulations.

"The foremost experts on taxation have been called into conference, so that the middle in which our state has found itself may be cleared and levies against the property of our citizens may be equalized. I am very proud to report the budget has been balanced. For the next two years state government in Illinois will be operated in the black."

The governor told the club members that in discussing financial problems with merchants and industrialists he had found them fearful of the future, and that he had concluded that it was "government itself" which they feared.

"They seemed to think," he said, "that government had adopted the weak philosophy that there already were too many wage earners, that there was no room for fresh enterprise, and that business and agriculture had reached the end of the road. One industrialist told me that government, business and the people all seemed to be rushing about, hoping they were on their way, but uncertain of their destination."

"This spirit of doubt, this lack of faith in government, which at times is abroad in our land, is a challenge to you. x x x It is you who must teach our people over again that government is their servant, and that theirs is the right of freedom and opportunity upon which no agency dares encroach."

Can Inspect Large Ordnance Plant
Joliet, Ill., April 4.—(P)—The public will get its first chance Sunday to inspect the $33,000,000 Kanakake ordnance plant which is under construction on a 27,000 acre tract of land near Elwood, Ill.

Col. T. C. Gerber, commanding officer, said visitors would be allowed in the grounds from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, and that guards would be stationed at convenient points to guide them to places of interest.

Nazi Bombs Kill Many In England

London, April 5.—(Saturday)—(P)—A number of people were believed killed and wounded last night and early today in a heavy German air raid on a western England town.

The casualties were feared in a residential district, where considerable damage was believed caused by Nazi bombs.

Hundreds of volunteers fighting desperately amid the crash of heavy explosives to extinguish Nazi fire bombs raining on the town cheered when searchlights and anti-aircraft shells located one bomber and brought it down in flames.

Several other districts in the area were showered with explosives after the severe German strike at the port city of Bristol Thursday night.

The German bombers bucked a terrific anti-aircraft barrage to attack. Unconfirmed reports said a second Nazi plane and possibly a third were shot down.

Drop Fire Bombs
Shortly before midnight the raid had been in progress for several hours with wave after wave of planes dropping the fire bomb prelude to heavy explosives.

The capital had a brief alarm which lifted before 10 p.m. (3 p.m. C.S.T.), but there were no immediate reports of bombings.

The new Nazi attack followed daylight coastal forays and RAF raids on Brest, Rotterdam and Ostend. In the latter stage the German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau again were the apparent major targets.

"Heavy bombs were seen to fall across the drydock and several fires were started in the port," an air ministry communiqué said, but poor visibility made it difficult to assess the full effect of the raid.

Oil tanks at Rotterdam, and docks at Ostend also were bombed. Although thousands of fire, oil and explosive bombs were rained on Bristol, the British described the Thursday night attack as less intense and destructive than previous assaults on that southwestern port. A number of fires were extinguished quickly, the British said.

General Rains Aid To Spring Crops
Springfield, Ill., April 4.—(P)—General rains throughout Illinois during the last two days are replenishing city reservoirs and livestock water supplies, improving the growth of winter wheat and aiding spring crops.

Illinois, which received only 22.84 inches of rain in the past 19 months, received an average of 1.06 inches during the past two days and in central Illinois the rain continued steadily today, it was said by E. W. Holcomb, head of the weather bureau here.

Rainfall at 7 a.m. ranged from 24 inches in Chicago to 1.96 inches in Dixon. Holcomb said, adding that it was the best rainfall that central Illinois has had in over a year.

Officials in Centralia said the city reservoir, alarmingly low early this week, had risen 1.7 feet and a rise of two more feet was expected, while in Carbondale, officials said the rain would add a 15 days' supply of water to the Carbondale lake.

A. J. Surratt, federal and state crop statistician, called the rain a "slow, soaking rain that was much needed and beneficial."

"The rain has improved the growth of the winter wheat which has been slow thus far, and it will also help germinate the newly sown oats in central and southern Illinois," Surratt said.

Parachute Troops At Chanute Field
Rantoul, Ill., April 4.—(P)—A detachment of two officers and 24 enlisted men arrived at Chanute Field from Fort Benning, Ga., today for instruction as parachute troops.

The new arrivals will start a course of instruction in the air corps training school Monday, leading to graduation May 30 in the parachute riggers school.

250,000 Steel Workers May Strike; All Ford Operations Are Tied Up

Strike Has Spread Thru Ford Empire

By The Associated Press
Detroit, April 4.—Paralyzing effects of the strike at the Ford Motor Company's River Rouge plant today spread to many branches in the Ford empire, as the CIO's United Auto Workers Union moved to halt Henry and Edsel Ford into federal court.

Too, the union charged in a formal statement that its members passed into the plant as maintenance men were "roughly searched and beaten" and threatened to withdraw its membership unless they "are protected and all annoyances ended."

The union charged that each member entering the main gate today was taken by a company service man to "a heavily armed crowd of about 50 men" who searched them, ripped off union buttons and punched the protesters. Later, the union claimed, "growing crowds of thugs, armed with iron bars and other weapons, were cruising through the buildings, beating, molesting and threatening the maintenance men."

To Show Affiliation
In obtaining subpoenas for the Fords and Harry H. Bennett, company personnel director, attorney Ernest Goodman for the union said he intended "to show the affiliation between the Ford company and Fascist governments." He demanded the Fords' presence in the union's efforts to dismiss a federal court order restraining the UAW-CIO from interfering with Ford employees entering or leaving the plant.

Buell Doelle, company attorney, reported that "the Ford company has virtually turned over its entire resources to the service of the government, and will continue to do so. As to Nazi connections, it need only be pointed out that the Ford properties abroad have virtually been confiscated."

Flies To Capital
Tonight I. A. Capizzi, Ford attorney, flew to Washington to confer with Secretary of War Henry H. Stimson.

There was no immediate announcement on Capizzi's plans, but the company said he was taking evidence of "activities of Communists" in the strike.

Millions of dollars loss in production and wages have attended the three day strike, with more penalties to come unless a settlement is reached.

Some 150,000 Ford workers were authoritatively believed affected by the strike. The sprawling 1,100 acre River Rouge plant employs 85,000 hourly rated workers and many thousands of others. Thirty-four domestic branches of the company have 40,000 on their payrolls. Several of these had shut down or were approaching that stage as supplies normally received from the Rouge plant dwindled. Independent companies supplying Ford material or using it also felt the pinch.

Business Damaged
The company, which has claimed that damage to its business will run into a million dollars each day of the shutdown, said today the wage loss for a five day week at Rouge plant was $3,200,000.

Late today the company made known that all its 16 assembly plants in the United States were closing. Counting the Rouge plant's 84,000, the idle more in assembly plants alone will total 118,000. Lack of parts from Rouge was the reason given.

Eighteen other Ford divisions in the country, including small manufacturing plants, also were ordered closed. The company ordered all shipments from suppliers halted "until further notice."

STOCK EXCHANGE HEAD INDUCTED INTO ARMY

New York, April 4.—(P)—William McChesney Martin, Jr., 34-year-old president of the New York Stock Exchange, was notified today to report April 16 for military training.

The youthful exchange head got his induction notice in the mails from a Mid-Manhattan Draft Board sooner than had been expected in Wall Street, which has been searching for an administrator to succeed him.

Exchange officials had anticipated he would be called in May and recently appointed a committee to find a new president.

MEETS CABINET
Washington, April 4.—(P)—President Roosevelt met with his cabinet for three hours today, presumably going over the whole defense and labor situations.

Secretary of Labor Perkins was one of the last to leave. The session was one of the longest in many months.

QUITS CAPITAL

"Zero Hour" In German-Yugoslav Crisis Appears To Be Near

By The Associated Press
Belgrade, Yugoslavia, April 5.—(Saturday)—Predictions that the "zero hour" in Yugoslavia's crisis with Germany had arrived were voiced early today as the cabinet ended an extraordinary four and a half-hour session and thousands of troops rushed to the frontiers.

It was estimated 1,500,000 men had been called to the army by a royal decree disclosed late last night.

The nation's ministers, from the tough General-Premier Dusan Simovic down, were grave expressions as they left the meeting, described as unprecedented.

Many refused to return home, staying instead at their offices beside telephones which they apparently expected to bring them grave news at any moment.

War Near
Informed observers based their fears that war was near "at any hour now" on the numerous developments of the last 12 hours including King Peter's proclamation of full mobilization and the ministers' refusal to discuss what prompted the night session.

Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia Might Form An Alliance

Plan Joint Gamble to Stop Germany in Balkan War

Istanbul, Turkey, April 4.—(P)—Turkey, Yugoslavia and Greece, with Britain's blessing, are considering a mutual assistance alliance in a joint gamble to stop Germany if she starts a Balkan war, it was widely reported here tonight.

These reports were not confirmed, but they were compounded by the calling of more Turks to arms and other defense measures which led observers to believe that war is closer than ever to this nation standing guard over the Dardanelles.

If these three small countries join in a Balkan front for mutual protection, observers pointed out, Germany would face the prospect of having war on three fronts in Bulgaria if she starts a drive in either direction.

In this connection, it was reported that Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary now in Athens, is preparing to make a second trip to Turkey.

Officials said they knew nothing of this report, but admitted British and Turkish staff talks in progress at Ankara will explore thoroughly all angles of Turkey's defense problem and may last for two weeks.

The idea of a Turkish-Yugoslav-Greek alliance fits with ideas advanced by the Turkish press which has declared that Yugoslavia has it in her power to decide whether a united front is formed.

The Turkish envoy in Yugoslavia called on officials of the new Yugoslav government immediately after the coup d'etat of Premier Dusan Simovic March 27. It was reported, and offered a mutual assistance pact.

(Since then Milan Gavrilovic, Yugoslav minister to Soviet Russia, stopped in Turkey for conferences on his return to Moscow.)

Turkey's new defense measures included the calling up of all men of the army classes of 1906 and 1907 who previously had been excused from training. They are to report April 8.

Strike Violence To Be Prohibited

Austin, Tex., April 4.—(P)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel signed into law today a bill making it a penitentiary offense to use violence or threats of violence in strikes or in preventing anyone from engaging in a lawful vocation. The measure became effective upon signing.

Termining the act one of the most constructive pieces of legislation in Texas in many years, Governor O'Daniel added:

"It does not interfere with the right of labor to strike and protects the forgotten man. It should have a strong influence in bringing new industries to Texas."

He said four states, Florida, Illinois, Michigan and South Carolina already had asked for copies of the bill, passed finally only yesterday.

No communique was issued as the meeting ended at 2:30 a. m. (7:30 p. m. Friday CST) but semi-official explanation said "the critical foreign question" had been discussed.

The closed Hungarian border seemed likely to be the explosion point as reports filled up of troop movements and concentrations on both sides of the frontier.

Every rail facility in the kingdom was being used to expedite the mobilization.

The government, within a few hours after taking over the country's railroad system, announced private individual travel would be allowed only by special police permit.

Mobilize Military
The royal proclamation mobilizing the "entire military might of the Kingdom of Yugoslavia" was issued April 1 but it was made public for the first time in Saturday's morning newspapers.

It reads: "I Peter II, by the Grace of God and the wish of the people, King of Yugoslavia, on suggestion of the minister of war and navy and in accordance with the decision of the council of ministers—order the entire military might of the Kingdom of Yugoslavia to be put in a state of readiness beginning April 1."

Every Man Called
Military experts said this was tantamount to complete mobilization. During the last four days it has been apparent that in every city, town and hamlet in the entire country every available man is being called to the colors.

The army took over the entire railway system tonight, even ejecting civilian passengers from trains already made up as it sped to meet the threat of impending war with Germany.

Belgrade thrilled to a rumor, not officially confirmed, that a German military plane had been seen flying over the city at 6,000 feet.

Blacked Out
A message received here late tonight said Hungarian towns near the Yugoslav frontier had been blacked out on orders from Budapest. (There were reports in Budapest that the Yugoslav-Hungarian border had been closed, that Yugoslav motorized forces were at the border and had mined bridges and roads there.)

ST. LOUIS WOMAN FORCES NAZIS TO PAY $4,800 DEBT

St. Louis, April 4.—(P)—Mrs. Sophie Hunning forced a round-a-bout payment of $4,800 owed her by a nephew in Germany—but withheld by the Nazi government—in a legal move said by attorneys to be without precedent.

When the Reich refused to release the money, Mrs. Hunning obtained an injunction at a circuit court against a $14,000 debt left by Mrs. Hannah Miller, stage star, to relatives in Germany, 1934.

To get Mrs. Hunning to drop proceedings and release the legacy, it was disclosed today in St. Louis county probate court, the Milbradt heirs paid the sum owed Mrs. Hunning with part of their inheritance. The settlement was made out of court.

American Medical Association Is Found Guilty

Eighteen Individual Defendants Are Acquitted

Washington, April 4.—(P)—A federal court jury tonight found the American Medical Association and the Medical Society of the District of Columbia guilty of anti-trust law violation, but acquitted 18 individual defendants in the case.

The jury had deliberated about 11 hours. The government charged that the two organizations and the individual physicians entered into a conspiracy in restraint of trade, and interfered with operations of group health association, a cooperative organization giving medical service to government employees in exchange for a monthly advance fee.

Defense attorneys contended that the practice of medicine is not a "trade" as defined in the Sherman anti-trust act. Defense witnesses testified that they did not act in conspiracy in declining to cooperate with group health.

Justice James M. Proctor instructed the jury to weigh the evidence against each individual separately. He told the jury that individual physicians had the right to refuse consultation or assistance asked by the physicians or group health, and also that they had the right to "legitimate criticism xxx separately or by collective effort."

Sentencing of the two organizations—presumably involving fines—was not expected for several days.

Men May Be Called Out On Tuesday

Washington, April 4.—(P)—Negotiations for a new wage contract between the U. S. Steel Corporation and its CIO employees have reached "an absolute deadlock" it was learned from an informed source tonight, and the union leaders are preparing for a strike next Tuesday midnight.

A strike in "Big Steel" if effective enough to halt operations in the corporation's subsidiaries, would involve approximately 250,000 steel workers.

Negotiations which have been under way since March 12 between CIO's Steel Workers Organizing Committee and company representatives have failed, it was said, to produce an agreement on wages, paid vacations, dues collections, and exclusive bargaining recognition for the union.

The two sides, it was said, were far apart on all four points.

The old contract between the SWOC and Big Steel expired April 1 after Philip Murray, head of both CIO and SWOC, had served a formal 30-day notice of the union's desire to negotiate changes in the agreement.

Huge Orders
The mammoth U. S. Steel concern has huge orders for steel to be used in defense equipment, but no exact figures on these orders were available here immediately.

Edward R. Stettinius, one of the key figures in the government defense program, was formerly chairman of the board of the concern. He resigned to enter the defense set-up, and is now director of the priorities division.

The CIO organization was reported to have asked the company for a 10 cents an hour wage increase, and Big Steel is reported to have made a counter proposal to increase the wage 25 cents an hour.

Since April 1 the negotiators have been continuing their conferences under an agreement extending the life of the old contract to midnight April 8, with changes to be retroactive to April 1.

First Break
If CIO calls a strike at U. S. Steel next Tuesday night, it will mark the first disruption in relations between the two organizations since 1936 when Big Steel entered into a contract with John L. Lewis.

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Company in Pittsburgh, with approximately 20,000 employees, would be the 6th of Big Steel's subsidiaries that might be affected by a walk-out.

One hundred leaders of SWOC unions at "Big Steel" plants have been summoned to a meeting at Pittsburgh tomorrow to hear a report from Murray on status of the negotiations. SWOC negotiators and corporation representatives conferred for six hours at Pittsburgh today and adjourned their meeting until Monday. They issued no comment.

First intimation of a break between the union and corporation came on Wednesday, when it was understood "Big Steel" turned down union proposals that a closed shop and union dues check-off be granted.

Camp Hostesses Set Up Quarters

Camp Forrest, Tenn., April 4.—(P)—The camp's hostesses have set up quarters in the guest house for the opening Saturday night of the post's service club.

The camp librarian, Miss Martha Lagrone, has been here several days gathering books and periodicals for the opening of the library to occupy the second floor of the service club.

Mrs. Ann McClain, the senior hostess, has for the past nine years been hostess at McCallie School for Boys in Chattanooga.

Miss Cumi Campbell, of Knoxville, will be in charge of the cafeteria, where soldiers will bring their visitors for meals.

Miss Gladys Addington of Henry, Tenn., will have charge of the guest house.

Miss Lagrone, a 1940 library science honor graduate of the University of Illinois, is a native of West Point, Miss., and since July has been a librarian at the Enoch Pratt Library at Baltimore, Md.

U.S. Ships May Enter Red Sea, Gulf of Eden

Americans May Play an Important Role in Mediterranean

Washington, April 4.—(P)—President Roosevelt's indicated intention to permit American ships to enter the Gulf of Eden and the Red Sea opened the possibility today that American aid may play an increasingly important role in Britain's war effort in the Mediterranean and the Balkans.

The possible commission controls more than 100 cargo carriers which presumably might be diverted to carrying American supplies to British bases in Egypt or nearby.

Distance is a sharply limiting factor, however. It is more than 12,000 nautical miles from New York to the Suez Canal around South Africa.

From Egypt, British convoys would have to shuttle arms and supplies to Greece or North Africa, where they would be loaded onto ships for the Mediterranean.

One hundred leaders of SWOC unions at "Big Steel" plants have been summoned to a meeting at Pittsburgh tomorrow to hear a report from Murray on status of the negotiations. SWOC negotiators and corporation representatives conferred for six hours at Pittsburgh today and adjourned their meeting until Monday. They issued no comment.

First intimation of a break between the union and corporation came on Wednesday, when it was understood "Big Steel" turned down union proposals that a closed shop and union dues check-off be granted.

HALT DRAFT UNTIL U.S. STOPS DEFENSE STRIKES

Camilla, Ga., April 4.—(P)—In the face of sharp warning that it lacks such authority, the Mitchell County Draft Board announced today that it is deferring all prospective selectees until the federal government halts defense strikes.

Chairman W. B. Grant said the board—only one in this rural southwest Georgia county—adopted the policy unanimously today and effectively at once will give a 3-A rating— indefinite deferment—to all men called before it regardless of their physical conditions or other considerations.

Grant said that he hoped the Mitchell example would spread to all the other draft boards of the nation to "stop the slugs and the Reds," and concluded:

"When men can strike for $8 a day while our boys are going to camp for $21 a month there is something wrong. 'It certainly doesn't look fair to us and that's why we took this action.'"

LOSERS APPEAL
Bridgeport, Conn., April 4.—(P)—Richard "Dick" Chapman of Greenwich, national amateur golf champion, lost his appeal from a 1-A selective service classification tonight by decision of a Fairfield county appeals board.

Chapman appealed on physical grounds claiming a hay fever condition and other defects.

He had asked to be placed in 1-B classification—that of limited service.

FIRE ON PLANES
New York, April 4.—(P)—The London radio in a broadcast heard by NBC reported tonight that Yugoslav anti-aircraft batteries fired on a number of unidentified planes early Saturday (Yugoslav time) when they crossed the Yugoslav-German border. No details were given.

Palm Sunday

In the light of the times, Palm Sunday and its events assume an importance equal to Easter in this celebration of the church. It is sometimes more enlightening to consider what did not happen in these last days of Jesus, than to merely review the factual history of His last days on earth.

As children perhaps all persons could understand the simple story of what Easter meant. The teachers displayed an ugly, brown bulb and then pointed to a blooming white lily. This was a mystery of life which man could not explain, they said. And although the actual message of Easter was difficult for a young mind to grasp, the decorations, new spring clothing and larger attendance than usual made a definite impression.

The meaning of Easter of course is the foundation of the Christian faith. But the story of the "Sunday before" almost overshadows the great day.

Words and phrases are sometimes used so loosely as to obscure their real meanings. "A sense of values" is one of these. But it is a sense of values, considered as a moral ingredient, which is today, in many instances, a forgotten virtue.

Palm Sunday is the great example of that need. When Jesus rode into Jerusalem, a procession was formed in his honor. Palm branches and garlands were thrown in the street. Songs filled the air. The people cried aloud that this was the Son of David, this was the Saviour, this was the man the Jews had been waiting for for generations.

No mere man could have realized this acclaim. It is recorded that even the Pharisees said, "Behold, the world has gone after Him." And at that moment, when the throngs began to praise Him, the Master could have been a great leader. By being politic in his relations with the established church rulers, by being diplomatic in regard to the Roman rulers—Jesus did not in Gethsemane, that Christ made his decision. No popularity, no acclaim, no riches or influence could match a much greater contribution He was able to make.

After Palm Sunday, the people began to desert Him, and the events of Calvary became inevitable.

History's pages are full of accounts of men who have gloried in just the kind of thing which Christ rejected. The people of Jerusalem thought it was strange anyone would refuse such honors—slightly peculiar that this carpenter's son should refuse a chance to be "famous." In his behavior lies the proof of His immortality. And in this lesson of Palm Sunday, a sense of values is set up for all time. A modern parable is written. It is not alone the glory of Easter which distinguishes this season of the year. Palm Sunday's definition of what is truly valuable and what is trivial must also be adopted by Christians.

Meredosia Project

It has been some time since the citizens of Meredosia and interested persons in neighboring communities first asked for construction of a dam across Meredosia Bay. A number of meetings were held, letters written to legislators, federal and state officials.

But it has only been within recent weeks that definite action on the matter has seemed a possibility. The War department, it appears, cannot advance the funds because the improvement does not come within the scope of its operations. But WPA or other financial sources may make it possible.

Here is a project where funds might be wisely placed. The proposed benefits are plainly stated. Fishing will be improved, the water level will be maintained to a satisfactory point, cottagers and tourists will be attracted and a park development may also be feasible.

If the work is not done, army engineers and state experts are in agreement with local leaders that property values around the bay will be decreased. And there is no question of the construction being a detriment in any way.

With conservation of natural resources one of the prime aims of state and national government, the Meredosia Bay dam should not lack the proper support.

Washington News Letter
By Congressman James M. Barnes

With the United States geared for defense production, the ever-present danger from sabotage and espionage has increased. To fight these and other threats, some members of congress have introduced bills of varying scope, whose purpose is to legalize wire-tapping. Proponents of the idea claim that congress, by forbidding the government to use wire-tapping as it virtually did in the 1934 communications act, has handed over that privilege to the criminal elements of the population for their exclusive use.

They say that national defense, as well as the routine enforcement of law, demands that wire-tapping be made one of the lawful methods through which the United States can apprehend its internal enemies. They say that evidence gained through the use of wire-taps should be admissible in court. They advance this idea as a safeguard for the civil liberties of law-abiding citizens. Opponents of legalized wire-tapping fall into two large classes. One group says that with the method authorized, too much responsibility would rest on those officials using the method; that personal opinions of wrong and right would inevitably come into play, with the entire power of government stacked up against the privileges of the individual citizen. They maintain that sufficient safeguards against invasions of civil rights could never be written into any such law. The other group sincerely feels that the sabotage and espionage threat is severe enough to justify what they admit to be extraordinary methods. But they want every possible safeguard written into the law, and want to see it strictly limited in scope and bearing.

Generally speaking, I think this is an unwarranted intrusion of our rights of privacy, which could lead to serious abuses. The bill, as introduced, permits wire-tapping by any government investigative agency whenever a felony under federal statutes is involved. This would lead to practically unrestricted wire-tapping, i.e., under the guise of income tax evasion or violation of the anti-trust laws, etc., one could listen to a business man's entire conversation.

The main question is the surrendering of some of our guarantees of personal liberty. There is a temptation to yield on the grounds that the end justifies the means—but once a principle is violated, it opens the way for further violations.

One Sailor Injured, Others Escape In Hard Road Accident

Auto Skids From Pavement East of City; Kansas Man in Hospital

One sailor from the Great Lakes Naval Training station was injured and four other sailors from the same station were unhurt when the automobile in which they were riding went out of control early Friday morning on U. S. Highway 36, east of Alexander.

The Chevrolet sedan skidded on the pavement, spun around, and plunged into a shallow ditch, but did not turn over.

Joseph Mans of Beaver, Kas., was thrown from the rear seat against the occupants of the front seat, sustaining injuries to his chest.

Others in the car who escaped injury were the driver, Willard Rosenberg, Chicago, who is not in naval service; Harold Darnell, Osborne, Kas.; Earl Carter, Merle Schmalen and Grover Wells, all of Great Bend, Kas., and members of the navy.

The travelers, who were returning to the Great Lakes station after a visit with Kansas relatives, succeeded in getting the car back on the pavement. Mans was brought to Our Saviour's hospital.

Dr. Vincent Lenth examined the injured sailor, finding that he was suffering from chest injuries and shock. No fractures were discovered.

Continued Showers Prove Big Benefit To This Community

More Than Inch of Rain Has Fallen This Week; Farm Conditions Helped

Morgan county and Central Illinois continued Friday to soak up a fine rain that began falling Wednesday night, with intermittent showers since that time. Faced with serious drought conditions unless the spring season provides a considerable amount of moisture, this community regarded the continued showers as a good sign.

More than an inch of rain has fallen since early Thursday morning. Fields and gardens which had become dusty benefited from the moisture and pastures took on a greener appearance.

Some water was running into both Lake Mauvaisterre and Lake Jacksonville Friday morning, with indications that the flow would increase as branches and tiles emptied more water down the watershed. Lake Mauvaisterre rose about an inch Thursday.

Lake Jacksonville stands to profit immensely from any heavy rains which come this spring, as it has never filled since its completion. The big basin several miles long is ready for a deluge, but thus far the rainfall has been heavy enough to cover only a fraction of the area which eventually will be under water.

DEATHERAGE DEATH TERMED AN ACCIDENT

A verdict of accidental death from suffocation and shock from extensive burns was returned Thursday by a Sangamon county coroner's jury which investigated the death of Kenneth C. Deatherage, former Waverly man, who died Monday after a blaze in his room at the St. Nicholas hotel.

The jury did not state how the fire started, but it is believed a cigarette was responsible. Opinion was expressed at the inquest that Deatherage was sleeping in a chair when the fire started.

Funeral services and burial took place at Waverly Wednesday.

Pumpkins are composed of more than 90 per cent water.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Hog Mart Active, Prices Higher

Chicago, April 4.—(P)—Hog prices rose 25 to 35 cents in an active market today, cattle steady, and fat lambs strong to 15 cents higher.

Moderate receipts, reports that the surplus marketing administration had taken substantial amounts of lard and pork products for shipment abroad and the government's plan to peg prices all combined to encourage buyers in the hog market. It was the fourth consecutive day of advancing prices. Top quotation was $8.50.

A slow, steady trade developed on a comparative handful of steers, heifers and cows in the cattle market. Most steers sold around $9.25 to $10.50, with the best at $11.

Fed western lambs between 95-105 lbs sold at $10.85 to $11.15. Lighter weights scaling 85-90 lbs sold at $11.25 to shippers and city butchers.

STAMP NEWS

PANAMA opened the philatelic new year with an issue of 12 overprints commemorating the new constitution, which became effective Jan. 2. Six of the series are airmails.

New series announced for 1941 issue include: Philippine Islands, new postage and airmails; Netherlands Indies, complete new series with portrait of Queen Wilhelmina on higher values; Brazil, 15 values on national census, agriculture and industry; Ecuador, famous poets set.

France's postage is due for revision under the Vichy government. Stamps bearing portrait of Marshal Petain were announced late in 1940.

Of major importance in the commemorative field is Hong Kong's centenary, promised for January release. War conditions in Far East may delay arrival of these stamps in U. S.

King John IV, in medieval armor and mounted on a white horse, forms the design of Portugal's issue of two values commemorating the third centenary of independence.

Chile's new airmail series of 15 values is scheduled for early release. Five stamps commemorating the founding of Santiago in 1541 are also being printed.

SERIAL STORY

DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS

BY EDITH ELLINGTON

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Beatrice is determined to face Bruce Sheldrake, demand changes in store operation. But Anthony comes from his conference defeated. The merchandise manager laughed at the Big Idea. But Anthony isn't quite. He'll get proof. And he realizes that she has to have the store or she will be laughed at. For the first time she realizes the responsibility her money has brought upon her.

NO TIME FOR BLUES

CHAPTER XXII

THROUGH the long afternoon, the enormity of her problem stayed with her. That night, as she punched her time card, one of the line of hurrying girls in dark store dresses and cheap coats, she thought, "These girls need me. I've got to help them. I've got to help Anthony. And Grandfather would want me to do something. But what? What shall I do?"

Anthony was waiting for her outside the employees' entrance. Toby Masters, who always left the store with Beatrice, cried, "You look like a man who wants to get plastered."

Toby knew something was going on, she sensed that Anthony had suffered some bitter disappointment. But she was too wise to ask.

Anthony said, violently, "If it weren't for Bee, I certainly would go out on the town tonight. I'd get high as a kite."

"And you'd have a hangover in the morning that would kill you," said Toby.

"Not to mention getting fired," Beatrice added.

YET his anguished eyes were so hard to bear! She remembered how she had always sought forgetfulness and surcease in the gay, crowded night clubs of this city. She thought of the hotel ball rooms, in which she had danced; the theaters in which she had sat; the music and laughter and the excitement that could drive away, for a few hours, even the deadliest boredom.

"Anthony, why don't we all celebrate tonight? We wouldn't need to get tight. But we could make whoopee! Look, let's be like that man who used to celebrate every kick as if it were a medal of honor. Let's dance and make merry and the deuce with disappointment!"

Toby promptly seconded the motion. "I've been aching for a really big night for months!" She hopped up and down, squealing delightedly. "What a chance to drag out the Great Stone Face! Look, I'll tell him you're throwing the party. Anthony. Oh, I know you're broke. I'll pay you our share. But if I tell him it's your party, he can't turn me down, see? Leaving things up to him seems to have gotten nowhere, so—"

She grinned impudently, "I'm nuts about the boy. Come on, let's go home and I'll phone him and get all rigged up—"

"I've never heard of any Great Stone Face before," Beatrice said slowly. "Who is he?"

"He's a handsome blizzard. A frozen glacier. A human adding machine. He's in the company's office, my sweet. What do you think I've been doing while you and Anthony cooed over the lunch plates in the cafeteria? I've been throwing myself at his head, that's what I've been doing. He always eats in a dark corner near the kitchen, with a book on higher mathematics. I've been tossing the book under the table and offering him Toby instead, and he's been very politely and stubbornly refusing to have any."

"Toby, you shock me," Anthony said.

"Oh, he likes me, don't fret! He thinks I'm wonderful. He even admits I'm good looking. But—" the small, animated face sobered, and for a moment Toby was wistful and unsure. "He's a very careful looker-ahead, and he has a mother to support."

"I think you deserve a party," Anthony commented. "All right, we're throwing a party."

NEVER in her life had Beatrice known quite so impromptu a party. Anthony went home with them on the subway. Toby phoned her boy, and Vera phoned Terry.

At 8 o'clock, the doorbell rang, announcing Toby's Great Stone Face. She cautioned Terry five times, between the bedroom and the door, not to "get gay" with her friend. Then she came back radiant, leading a tall boy with a thin, bony face and red hair.

"Handsome!" thought Beatrice. "Toby must have it bad!"

But when Sam McArdle smiled, she understood.

"We might as well get going," Terry said, after the introductions were over. "We've got half an hour before the curtain and it's a long ride."

Back to the subway. Six laughing young people, crowding into the train. Toby hung on the arm of her cavalier with such transparent joy that Beatrice couldn't help saying, to Anthony, "The tough young girl about town! Just look at her!"

They ran all the way from the subway station to the theater, but they were late. It was two flights up to their seats, and people commented audibly at their nerve in barging in after the show started.

"No consideration! Where do they think they are, in the orchestra?"

DURING intermission, Toby and Vera hung over the rail, gazing down enviously at the brilliant of the fur capes, satin and sequined evening gowns, and diamond bracelets of the siren in the orchestra. Beatrice sipped a warm orangeade from a paper cup contentedly, and smiled at Anthony. She knew the orchestra crowd. This was better.

It was an uproarious musical comedy, with tunes that lingered after the last curtain fell.

"And now," said Toby, "On to the Danceteria."

"The—what?"

"It's a nightclub, really," Toby explained with dignity. "Only you tote a tray. Dinner and drinks and dancing and a swell orchestra and better than Fifty-second street any night!"

The Danceteria was a revelation. It was done in red, with a Spanish motif as eye-shocking as the zebra stripes at the night club with which Beatrice was more familiar. There were tables, all crowded, and a dance floor that was jammed although it was larger than any night club dance floor had a right to be.

The most important thing about the Danceteria was its democracy. Black ties mingled with dark blue serge, and sport dresses swayed right next to white tulle. The cheerful sound of happy voices was strangely different from the occasional feverish shrieks Beatrice remembered. There was no recurrent shrilling of, "How perfectly divine!" "My dear, can you bear it?" No one seemed to be concerned with who stopped at who's table, or who was dancing with who's wife.

"It's wonderful," she cried. "Anthony, it's marvelous! I'm so glad we had this party!"

She watched a girl at the next table scuffle good-naturedly with a boy over the possession of some snapshots.

She watched Vera poking Terry and whispering, "Don't spend too much." She saw Sam McArdle's red head hovering close to Toby's chestnut curls.

"I'm so happy, Anthony, I've simply got to dance. Right now!"

TRIP BY CANOE

Complicated for Local Scouts by the Lack of Enough Water

While Jacksonville residents were seeking vainly to keep out of puddles, Willard Prewitt and Robert Wood, two local Boy Scouts, were trying with little success to find enough water for their canvas-covered canoe.

The pair set out early Tuesday morning after spending the night under the Sangamon river bridge north of Springfield. On the first day they progressed to within a mile east of Petersburg. Starting Wednesday morning, snags in the low water punctured their canoe four times. They were told that the Sangamon water level was the lowest it had even been. One hundred yards was the longest stretch of clear going.

They arrived in Chandierville Wednesday at 10 p. m. and decided the canoe wouldn't last any longer. A fisherman warned the Scouts it would be dangerous to continue. Wood and Prewitt spent the night under the Chandierville bridge and returned to Jacksonville Thursday. Of a planned trip of 170 miles, they had succeeded in traveling, with considerable difficulty, 100 miles.

Large Audience At Program At School

"Run, Peddler, Run," Given Under Auspices AAUW, PTA Here

An enthusiastic audience of Jacksonville people young and old greeted the performance of "Run, Peddler, Run," produced by Junior Programs, Inc., under the auspices of the A. A. U. W. and the PTA, at the High School auditorium Friday night. This national organization sends its company throughout the United States to present its plays particularly to young people.

The lively comedy which was their Jacksonville offering was filled with action and color which enchanted the youngsters in the audience. The antics of the young tin peddler, especially when he disguised himself as a dumb woman to prevent his being chased out of town kept the audience in gales of laughter.

Especially commendable was the performance of Hannah Snood, the kindly woman suspected of witchcraft in the New England town in the 1730's.

Miss Hanya Karol, playing the role of the bound out girl for whom her brother, the peddler, was searching, looked as Irish as her brogue.

Surprising was the quality of the stage sets which the company carries with them in their travels. Three changes of scene were used in the four scenes.

Between the first and second scene, the Junior Program's mascot, was introduced. This giraffe is the perfect mascot because he can see without wiggling his head, he doesn't have to get a drink between the acts, and he can't talk during the performance.

Many of the children wore Joop buttons which were distributed thru the offices of the co-sponsors of the production, Mrs. John Agger and Mrs. Edna Bruce were the chairmen of the committees which worked on the play.
